GENERAL OVERVIEW

I am a disaster management specialist with more than 15 years' experience with interests in child-centered approach. In January 2020, I have been awarded a Doctoral of Philosophy degree from Macquarie University, Australia. I also completed a Master of Research degree from the same university. I am a senior research fellow of the Resilience Development Initiative (www.rdi.or.id), General Chairperson of the Indonesian Disaster Management Society (www.mpbi.info) and board member of the Consortium for Disaster Education in Indonesia.

My working experiences include the development of the first response framework of ASEAN (ASEAN Joint Disaster Response Plan), the ASEAN Regional Contingency Plans, initiated the ASEAN Safe Schools Initiative (ASSI), and founder of PREDIKT- a toolkit for children and parents to learn disaster preparedness in a fun and interactive way. I was also supporting the Government of Indonesia on knowledge management and coordination support team in the shelter, education, WASH, and community engagement sectors.

I have worked as a consultant with clients including the Government of Indonesia (Ministry of Education and Culture, National Disaster Management Authority, Ministry of Social Affairs, Ministry of Health, and Ministry of Public Works and Housing), the ASEAN Secretariat, European Union, ASEAN Coordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance (AHA Centre), UN agencies (i.e. UN ESCAP, UNDP, UNICEF, WFP, IOM), IFRC, AADMER Partnership Group, Plan International, Oxfam International, Mercy Corps, and Save the Children.

My last full-time position was with IFRC as the communication coordinator for the shelter cluster in Indonesia, and before that was in Plan International, working in South East Asia region and founded the ASEAN Safe School Initiative. I have been deployed to many emergencies, including Haiti earthquake (2010), Pakistan floods (2010), Nepal earthquake (2015), and the Central Sulawesi Earthquake and Tsunami (2018). My experiences during my work was to facilitate strategic planning, designed and managed projects, conduct monitoring and evaluation, and developing DRR projects in South East Asia region, and provided technical support for 7 countries.

My previous working experiences also include managing Child Centered DRR project, Climate Change Adaptation, and Safe School projects. I also have experience in designing and implementing emergency response programs in the field of Shelter, WASH, Nutrition in Emergencies, Education, and Child Protection sectors.
